

This group of Shenandoah County men posed on the steps of the Woodstock passenger depot on June 29, 1918 before departing for service in the U.S. Army at Camp Lee, Virginia. It is interesting to note that all of them wore ties and hats. How would a group of young men reporting for military duty today be dressed? Old photos are needed to continue this series. Persons who have pictures of interest and who are willing to loan them should bring them to The Free Press office on U.S. 11, south of Woodstock.
